A generous gift, it is nothing to the millions that the Rockefellers give to fight disease and encourage education and science all over the world.

If there are, as Mr. Green of the American Federation of Labor says, 4,500,000 out of work, then $4,000,000 won't go far. This country gave ten thousand millions to foreign nations, fighting.

IT IS SUGGESTED that Mussolini may be compelled to take the advice of the big three concerning the navy, etc., by cutting off her credit. The big three, as you know, are France, Great Britain and the United States.

If they arrange, as suggested, to refuse all loans to Italy, Mussolini might find it difficult to survive.

On the other hand, something might happen that would hurt the feelings of the big three considerably more than Mussolini's Italy has ever hurt them.

With Mussolini down, chaos, followed by anarchy and disagreeable consequences, might develop.

The big three should know that one Russia in Europe is enough at a time.

WET CONGRESSMEN have a beer bill and will push it, but, outnumbered nearly three to one by drys, they probably will not push it far. However, "Ain't it a good offer?" as Mr. Fields said to Mr. Weber when he hadn't a dollar and bid $5,000 for a dog.

Wet members might arouse interest by scattering about the house pictures of a veteran British athlete, nearing three score and ten, famous, who has recently traveled from London to Burton-on-Trent, the great beer center, 153 miles, drinking nothing but beer on the way. You could not do that on whisky, although you might do it on ice water if you did not drink too much.

Grand Jury Returns 25 Indictments

15 PERSONS INVOLVED IN CRIME CASES

Arraignment of Prisoners Set for Saturday Before Judge Scofield.

81 WITNESSES EXAMINED

No Indictments Returned in Five Cases; Three Charges Continued.

Twenty-five indictments, involving 15 persons, were returned by the Marion county grand jury last night when it reported to Judge George B. Scofield of common pleas court after a four-day session which began Monday. The jury made its report a day earlier than expected due to the fact that several cases were continued because of illness of witnesses. The accused persons will be arraigned Saturday at 1 p. m.

Charles Seckel, 67, of Caledonia, was indicted on a charge of grand larceny in connection with the theft of $3,000 from Mrs. Amanda Smith, also of Caledonia, several months ago. Seckel also was indicted for illegal possession of intoxicating liquor, third offense.

Charged With Robbery

Richard Robinson and Richard Houston, both of near Brush Ridge, were indicted on charges of robbery. They are accused of having held up three young couples parked in an automobile near the Grand Prairie township school building a month ago.

Other indictments are as follows: Stephen Sunsera, burglary(three indictments); Kermett Kunkle, burglary (two indictments); Clayton Harley, burglary; Alva McEldowney, burglary; Alfred Lamb, obtaining property under false pretenses; Kenneth Turner, burglary (three indictments); James Beaver, burglary (three indictments); Jim Sunday, forgery and obtaining money under false pretenses; William Dixon, larceny; Roy Myers, forgery and uttering a forged instrument; Robert Wilson, burglary, and Otis Simpson, receiving stolen property.

No indictments were returned in the cases of D. I. Angelo, charged with issuing checks without funds; Hobart Hostetter, charged with burglary; Kyietus Boggs, charged

POINCARE CALLED IN CABINET CRISIS

France Looks to Him To Take Over Leadership Vacated by Tardieu.

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Dec. 5 — All France looked today to Raymond Poincare, "saviour of the franc," to emerge from his retirement and once more assume the government's leadership, left vacant with resignation of Premier Andre Tardieu and his cabinet.

President Doumergue today called Poincare to appear at the Elysee palace this afternoon, presumably to discuss the cabinet crisis.

The Tardieu government was defeated in the senate and censured for the conduct of the government during the current financial scandals, 147 to 139.

Whatever the desires of those talking to the president for a ministry headed by another, it appeared the answer to the crisis lay in M. Poincare.

The veteran statesman's own attitude was believed to have changed somewhat with defeat of his friend and disciple M. Tardieu.

Just prior to the vote he told friends in the senate lobby: "If my name is put forward to assume formation of a new ministry, should one be necessary, I shall show my doctors' certificates that it is impossible for me to resume office at the present time."

Today was general feeling that he would be induced to change his views and accept responsibility for a new ministry.

Woman and Boys Plead Guilty to Death Plot

By The Associated Press

MARIETTA, O., Dec. 5—A wife who was alleged to have plotted the death of her husband to collect his insurance, and two youths, one her son, who were alleged to have made an attempt to carry out the plan last Thanksgiving night, pleaded guilty to charges of shooting to kill when arraigned in Washington county probate court today.

The trio, Mrs. Carrie Gourley, 39; Harry Gourley, 16, her son and Charles Whiting, 19, were charged by authorities with plotting the death of George Gourley, 42, who was shot from ambush and critically wounded.

URGES FARM ORGANIZATION

Surest Hope of Permanent Aid to Agriculture, Federal Board Reports.

STILL "FEELING THE WAY"

First Year of Operations Shows Immensity of Task, Report Says.

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5—The federal farm board with its $150,000,000 appropriation is still "feeling its way along" in its grain buying operations, it indicated today as it reported its first year of operation to congress. The present economic crisis, it was pointed out, while it created certain unusual opportunities, also multiplied the difficulties in developing policies and building an organization.

"The experience of the first year has brought clearly into view the immensity of the problems with which the board must undertake to deal and the complexity of their ramifications, but at the same time it has led to the very definite conclusion that farmer organization, of all the remedies suggested, offers the surest hope for permanent financial betterment of those engaged in agriculture," the report said.

The report stressed the fact that improvement in farm income can not be obtained from effective cooperative marketing alone, but requires in addition that production be brought in line with consumer demand.

There are two ways of dealing with agricultural surpluses — prevent them and control them, the board declared.

The board said measures for prevention of surpluses through control of excessive production are absolutely essential to stabilizing farm prices and farm incomes.

"There is a field for stabilization measures—just how large a field the board is not in a position to determine—but the experience described indicates the difficulties and hazards are invoved in stabilization procedures," the report added.

GRANGERS TO INVADE MARION NEXT WEEK FOR ANNUAL MEETING

Farm Leaders from All Parts of State To Be Here for Four-Day Session; Taber, National Master, To Speak Tuesday; Plans Complete.

With the exception of a few finishing touches to be taken care of in meetings of the executive committee Saturday and Monday, the program for the 1930 state Grange convention here Dec. 8-12 is practically complete today.

Arrangements are made for the accommodation of several thousand delegates and visitors from all parts of Ohio.

The convention will open Monday night in The Star auditorium with a public reception, and will end either Thursday afternoon or night in the same auditorium.

To Elect Officers

Among other events scheduled are the selection of a 1931 convention city and the election of state officers for the ensuing year.

L. J. Tabor of Columbus, national grange master, will speak at the public reception in The Star auditorium Monday night.

The reception will be the only meeting of the convention which the general public may attend.

A reception committee headed by Mayor L. Don Jones will extend official welcome to the grangers. A number of state officers are planning to arrive in Marion Sunday to prepare reports and other scheduled events of the program.

The initial business session will be held Tuesday morning in the Ohio theater with the following events scheduled: announcement of committees; introduction of distinguished guests; roll call of state grange officers; sessions for fourth and sixth degree grangers.

Kirk To Speak

Tuesday afternoon: annual message of the state grange master by Walter F. Kirk of Port Clinton, in Ohio theater; conferring of the fifth degree in The Star auditorium by a Marion county fifth degree team assisted by a Delaware county team; first roll call of delegates; presentation of awards for outstanding service; deputy masters' association meeting; lecturers' conference; lecturers' banquet in First Presbyterian church at 6 p.m.

Nearly 2,000 persons are scheduled to take the sixth degree when it is conferred Tuesday night at the Palace theater. It is one of the most elaborate degrees in the grange and will not be seen by anyone except sixth degree members and candidates. A pageant

$500,000 LOSS IN EXPLOSION AND FIRE

Beloit, Wis., Gas Main Blast Starts Blaze; Hurls Man Through Window.

By The Associated Press

BELOIT, Wis., Dec. 5—An explosion of a gas main, followed by a fire in the heart of the city early today, destroyed several stores and caused damage estimated at more than $500,000.

Policeman Lester Sheehan was thrown through a plate glass window and severely cut.

The Webber Mills Clothing company, Universal grocery and J. A. Anderson's jewelry store were destroyed and only the walls remain of the E. L. Chester department store and Perry's ice cream parlor.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Dec. 5—The president delivered a message to congress, but none of the papers on the coast had room for it, on account of it being at the same time the Notre Dame football team was arriving out here.

Talk about getting in, why I paid ten dollars a ticket just for space to hear over the radio.

GETS DEATH PENALTY FOR FAMILY SLAYING

Hamilton Man Convicted as Slayer of Five; Will Seek New Trial.

By The Associated Press

HAMILTON, O., Dec. 5—Charles King, 39, barber, today was confronted with the death penalty for killing his wife and four children.

A jury found him guilty of first degree murder and declined to recommend mercy last night after deliberating seven hours. The verdict automatically called for death in the electric chair.

King, the state said, locked his family in his house after a quarrel with his wife the night of Oct. 24, 1929, opened gas jets and fled the city. The next morning Mrs. King and four of their five children were found dead in bed.

King wandered from city to city in the middlewest working at his trade, until he was recognized and arrested last month at Fairport Harbor. O. Brought here to stand trial. At first he denied his identity, but later made a written confession.

Defense counsel announced a new trial would be asked. King claimed that he was on his way to Lima the night his family died and refuted the correctness of his confession.

Foster Refuses To Give List of Communists

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5—William Z. Foster, Communist leader, refused today to give the house committee investigating Communist activities in this country the names of members of the American Communist central committee.

Foster read a prepared statement which said there are 9,000,000 unemployed in the United States.

"Those who are still employed," he said, "are having their wages slashed and are being speeded up beyond the limit of human endurance."

He said the Fish committee "is protecting" the capitalist system "against the protests of the worker."

200 HERE FOR TRAFFIC CLUB HOLIDAY MEET

Railway Express Agency Head Is Speaker at Session in Hotel Harding.

MR. TELEVOX IS FEATURE

Prominent Officials of Transportation Concerns and Central Ohio Plants Here.

More than 200 members of the Central Ohio Traffic club and employes and officials of the Railway Express Agency heard Robert E. M. Cowie of New York City, president of the agency, give a resume of the development of railway express at a holiday meeting of the traffic club in Hotel Harding last night.

Cowie's talk headlined a program of entertainment, which followed a banquet in the ballroom at 6:30 p. m. A demonstration of Mr. "Televox" the mechanical man, was also a feature.

Pick Mansfield

The only business to come before the meeting was the selection of Mansfield for the next meeting in February. The meet will be held in the new senior high school building. An effort will be made to obtain the B. & O. Railroad chorus of 70 male voices for the program, and invite the public at a small charge, the proceeds to go to relief of the unemployed.

A number of prominent express men from the mid-west and other well known figures in traffic circles attendad the meeting here last night.

"A Romance In Transportation," beginning with the first expressman, who carried shipments over unbeaten paths in a sack thrown across his shoulders and ending in the modern transportation facilities that make 30-hour coast-to-coast service possible was described by Cowie.

He traced the gradual improvement of the express service, which first used horsedrawn wagons, horsedrawn rail cars, ships, and finally the railroad.

"Wherever the railroad goes the express company will follow," Cowie said.

Follows Railroads

"The express company operates over 265,000 miles of railroad, has 28,500 offices in all of the United States and other countries, employs at peak periods 100,000 persons and handles 300,000,000 shipments annually," Cowie said. "The

DEMANDS DEATH FOR ANTI-SOVIET GROUP

Prosecutor Speaks as Trial of 8 Nears End; Assails Poincare.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, Dec. 5—A demand of the people's prosecutor, N. B. Krylenko, that they be given the death penalty for having plotted to overthrow the Moscow government, today rang in the ears of eight Soviet engineers and former officials as their trial approached its close.

In the grand ball room of the House of Columns, where the trial is being held, the prosecutor summed up the case against the men. Millions of Russians, he shouted, have demanded the death penalty for them, and he echoed that demand.

The name of Raymond Poincare, the French statesman, was shouted again today in the courtroom.

Krylenko shook his finger in the general direction of Paris and accused the former French premier of working hand in glove with counter-revolutionaries.

"If Poincare wants to know all the details of this plot in which he played such an important part," Krylenko shouted, "I'll let him have those details. I'll let him know that our people are ready for the worst. When the time comes to fight we will fight as one man. We will meet the crisis armed and prepared."

Referring to testimony which involved officers of the French general staff whom the defendants implicated in the plot, Krylenko characterized the French denials as "pure fake."

President's Detailed Outline of Program Gets Favorable Reception.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 — President Hoover's plan for spending $150,000,000 within six months on public building projects was started today on the road to legislative enactment, with the first outburst of criticism apparently stilled.

A detailed explanation of his plan, giving the amounts allocated to sub-divisions of the government departments but not naming the specific projects to be built, was accorded a favorable reception as the house appropriations committee began hearings on the proposal.

The resolution to carry out the request was introduced in the house by Chairman Wood of the appropriation committee. A companion measure was placed before the senate to await the house's action.

This is the way the President proposes to allocate the funds:

Agriculture department $84,324,980, with $80,000,000 of this for roads; war department $57,473,800, nearly half of it to non-military outlays such as waterways and harbors; commerce department $1,638,000; interior department $3,757,000; justice department $355,000 for institutions, and navy department $4,620,000.

WILLIS GIVEN MERCY; JURY OUT 12 HOURS

Youth Displays No Emotion as Judge Hoge Pronounces Sentence.

THINK APPEAL UNLIKELY

Verdict Closes Dramatic Trial in Fatal Shooting of George Ansley.

Special To The Star

KENTON, O., Dec. 5—James Willis, 21, must spend the rest of his life in the Ohio penitentiary for the fatal shooting of George L. Ansley.

A verdict of first degree murder with a recommendation for mercy was returned in common pleas court today at 4:15 a. m., by a jury of 12 men. The jury had been deliberating the case since Thursday at 3:46 p. m.

Immediately after the decision of the jury was returned, Judge Hamilton E. Hoge pronounced the mandatory sentence of life in the penitentiary.

No indication was made at the time whether Willis' counsel would demand a new trial and later carry the case to higher courts. Court attaches believed there would be no attempt made to reverse the verdict.

Maintained Insanity

Throughout the trial counsel for the defense maintained that Willis was insane. Testimony of alienists, members of his family and friends was introduced to support the stand. Willis pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity to the indictment charging first degree murder.

Willis' face failed to reveal any emotion when the verdict and sentence was read in court. He maintained the silence and calm that marked his bearing throughout the trial. His gaze was fixed on the counsel table ahead of him and his hands were folded in his lap.

He shook his head negatively when the court asked him if he had any reason why sentence should not be pronounced. Neither his father nor his mother, one of whom has been at the trial at all times, were present when sentence was passed.

Not Placed on Stand

Willis was not placed on the stand by his counsel during the taking of testimony. Members of his family, however, testified.

Ansley was fatally shot the morning of Oct. 26 when Willis called at the home to gain an interview with the daughter, Lucille Ansley. The daughter, it was said, had spurned Willis' attention.

A second man, John Johnson, companion of Willis the night of the fatal shooting, is being held in county jail under $10,000 bond awaiting trial on a charge of breaking and entering an inhabited dwelling in the night season. No date for his hearing has been set.

The large crowd, which filled about the courthouse corridors

STATE FORCE SEEKS INSANE FUGITIVES

Seven Liberated at Mattewan Continue To Elude Police and Troops.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 5—Search for seven maniac-convicts who fled from the state hospital for the criminally insane at Mattewan after overpowering guards was intensified today.

City police, state troopers and sheriff's forces were scouring New York and patroling the 60-mile roadway from Beacon, N. Y.

Special guards watched the convict's former homes here, in Brooklyn, on Long Island and in Rochester, N. Y., and plain clothes men sought them in their known haunts.

Two of the fugitives were sentenced for slayings, one for arson, one for assault, two for burglary and one for violating a parole.

Frank Vanderkuylen, who was committed for killing his bigamous wife with acid, appeared twice in the city yesterday.

William Nelson, 22-year-old insane burglar who escaped Nov. 19, engineered the break early yesterday morning. He returned to the hospital with two unidentified gunmen and surprised the guards.

Trial Halted as Woman Collapses on Stand

By The Associated Press

DENVER, COLO., Dec. 5—Collapse of Pearl O'Loughlin on the witness stand last night brought to an abrupt halt her trial on a charge of murdering her 10-year-old stepdaughter.

With the jury excluded from the courtroom, Mrs. O'Loughlin was called to the stand to testify of her treatment while in custody of police following the finding of the girl's body in a city park lake.

Santa Claus To Find Plenty of Cheer In Oakland Heights on Visit Here

CHRISTMAS will hold a new meaning for youngsters in Oakland Heights this year when merchants of that community stage a gala party for them Christmas eve.

Although the party will attract older persons as well it was conceived primarily for the benefit of children.

A huge 35-foot Christmas tree has been erected on the point at Bellefontaine avenue and Davids street. This will be decorated with 100 colored bulbs and lighted gratis by the C. D. & M. Electric Co.

The merchants have provided treats for the children to be given out during the party.

Arrangements have been made for the children in the neighborhood to sing Christmas carols before the party begins at 8 p. m. Christmas eve.

The idea of a Christmas neighborhood party was conceived little more than a week ago by a number of the 27 merchants and businessmen in the community. The scheme was approved by other merchants, who have donated both time and prizes to assure the party a success.

A number of meetings have been held by the merchants at the Oakland Drug Co. operated by W. N. Sams.

with burglary; Clarence Chaffin, charged with automobile stealing, and O C. Miller, charged with embezzlement.

The cases of Richard Robinson, charged with automobile stealing; A. E. Clemens, charged with embezzlement, and John Thomas Jones, charged with automobile stealing, were continued until the next term of court because prosecuting witnesses were ill.

Marked improvement in the condition of the county jail as compared to its condition when the jury visited the institution on Sept. 10 was reported to the court following an inspection of the building yesterday.

The jury, however, recommended that a new bath tub with hot running water be installed in the women's quarters and that new covers for all mattresses be purchased. Wire screens for windows in the women's quarters, purchase of an extra army blanket for each bed as well as adequate footwear for inmates and installation of a new sink in the kitchen were others items recommended.

Payment of the railroad fare of Clarence Chaffin from Marion to his home in Kistler, W. Va., was also recommended. Chaffin has been in the jail on a charge of automobile stealing but the jury failed to return an indictment against him. He is indigent and should be sent back to his home at the county's expense, according to the jury.

Eighty-one witnesses were examined by the jury during the four-day session. A. E. Cheney was foreman of the body.

when the nation's own people have not enough to eat.

Other countries may have serious food troubles such as they have in Germany. We shall have no riots, presumably, because we need not have them.

Three things men must have—food, shelter, heat. There are plenty of buildings for shelter and one of our national troubles is too much coal and oil. No trouble about heat.

Another of our problems is how to get rid of surplus food. The government is holding about ninety million bushels of wheat, wondering what to do with it. Men could live on be ied wheat if they had to. Roman soldiers ate it raw, carrying it in a pouch at their belts on long marches. Hence the magnificently even teeth in old Roman skulls.

There can be no excuse for food riots or any undeserved hunger in this country.

CONGRESS considers forbidding all immigration into the United States for five years. The fear is that somebody might take the job of an American or become a public charge.

Legislators should ask themselves what produced American prosperity. Was it the native red Indian or was it the immigrant from Europe? How many of the gentlemen who would shut out everybody in Europe are descended, more or less closely, from immigrants that came here with nothing?

When we had four million population there was just one man in the United States able to make a dollar a day all the year round.

Now we have more than 122,000,000 population, millions of whom make $5 a day, even $10 a day, and a few make several million dollars a year.

Ninety per cent of all goods produced in the United States are sold in the United States. Who buys them? They are bought by the descendants of immigrants. If we had some more immigrants, to leave descendants, wouldn't we be able to sell more goods made in America?

WOMAN CONFESSES TO BURGLARIES HERE

Cardington Resident Held in Upper Sandusky on Two Charges.

Four local burglaries were apparently nearing solution today, following the arrest of Mrs. Albert Cunningham of near Cardington at Upper Sandusky yesterday.

She is said by Upper Sandusky police to have confessed to three burglaries here with her husband, who is now being sought by authorities of Marion and Upper Sandusky.

The four burglaries in which the couple are believed to have participated include the display window at the Jim Dugan clothing store, a filling station at Prospect and Mill streets twice, and the Slanser Lumber Co. Little loot was taken in any of the burglaries.

Local officials will not prosecute either of the pair until they have answered burglary charges in Upper Sandusky, police said today. They are held in connection with the burglary of the Beidler hardware store there a few weeks ago in which five guns and some ammunition were taken, and burglary of a service station there.

A pawn ticket held by the woman for the guns, which have been located in Toledo pawn shops, was responsible for investigation which led to her confession.

A Whippet coach in which both were riding at the time of the burglaries in Upper Sandusky was stolen from Kenton the day following Labor day, Upper Sandusky authorities say.

The couple are also charged with appropriating 10 loaves of bread left outside an A. P. Grocery Co. here.

PICKED WRONG DAY

ASHLAND, Wis., Dec. 5—Every man is entitled to a night off once in a while, Charles Larsen, manager of a mercantile company, reasoned as he took one after staying out of bed most of the time for several weeks guarding his stock against burglars. While he was gone burglars hauled away $600 worth of merchandise.

Find 48 Hour Route from Death's Portal To Health

By The Associated Press

COLD SPRING HARBOR, N. Y., Dec. 4—Restoration of a man from death's door to apparently perfect health in 48 hours was revealed today at the biological laboratory.

The man saved, a patient at the Mayo clinic at Rochester, Minn., had Addison's disease.

At the clinic a purified hormone was injected directly into the veins of a farmer 39 years old by Dr. Leonard G. Rowntree and Dr. Carl H. Greene.

"Before its use," they reported, "the patient was excessively weak, bedridden, depressed, nauseated, losing weight and showed evidence of failing circulation. Within 48 hours he had taken a new lease on life, his appetite was excellent, his strength was greatly improved and he appeared to be in perfect health.

Addison's disease due to failure of a man's adrenal glands, has been recorded in the past in medical literature as invariably fatal.

The hormone used was an extract of the cortex of the adrenal glands of cattle, obtained in the past few weeks in unusually pure form by Dr. W. W. Swingle and Dr. J. J. Pfiffner of the biological laboratory and of Princeton university.

MARION READY FOR OHIO GRANGE MEET

State Convention Will Open in City Next Week; Reception Planned.

will be presented on this program by Marion county granges.

Scheduled appearance of Arthur M. Hyde, secretary of agriculture, of Washington, D. C., on the Tuesday night program appeared doubtful today. A letter from Mr. Hyde's secretary advised he will be unable to leave Washington to attend the convention.

National Lecturer To Speak

The Wednesday morning session includes: deputy masters' association meeting in the Elks' lodge rooms; lecturers' conference in the First Presbyterian church; juvenile deputy matrons' association meeting in the Elks' lodge rooms; address by James C. Farmer, national lecturer, in the Ohio theater at 9 a. m.; reports of state officers and transaction of general business.

Wednesday afternoon: election of state grange officers and selection of a city for the 1931 convention, both in the Ohio theater; committee reports; talk by C. H. Ramsower of the Ohio State university; deputy masters' association meeting in the Elk's lodge rooms; lecturers' conference in The Star auditorium; deputy masters' banquet in Hotel Harding.

Wednesday night: address by Frank B. McMillan of Mt. Gilead, president of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce in Ohio theater; memorial services in charge of Rev. W. G. Patterson, chaplain of the state grange; committee reports; concert by the Future Farmers of America band; exemplification of opening and closing of grange meeting by Montgomery grange members.

May Have Candidate

Thursday morning: deputy masters' association conference in Elks' lodge rooms; lecturers' conference in First Presbyterian church;; juvenile deputy matrons meeting in Elks' lodge rooms; regular session in The Star auditorium at 9 a. m.; final comimttee reports; address by Warren Perry; action on resolutions presented in earlier meetings.

Thursday afternoon and night: installation of state officers by Delaware degree team; final business session.

Indications today were that Marion county will furnish a candidate for the office of State Grange secretary. LeRoy Anderson of Montgomery Grange, secretary of Pomona Grange of the county, has been mentioned prominently as a prospective candidate.

A number of short entertainment features will be furnished for the various programs by Marion county granges.

MARION TO GET CAR OF CHRISTMAS FIRS

First Trees of Season Due To Go on Sale After Arrival Wednesday.

A carload of fir trees, 1,613 of them, will arrive here Wednesday to enliven Marion homes for the Christmas season. They will be shipped to H. Bornheim, fruit and produce wholesaler, who will distribute them among local retailers.

This year's supply of trees will come from Washington. The trees are a new variety rapidly becoming popular because of their ability to withstand the heat of the interior of houses without shedding needles.

Prices this year will remain around normal levels. Trees of assorted sizes will sell from 50 cents to as high at $3 for the few large choice trees of the carload. The average tree will vary between 75 cents and $1.25.

The shipment will arrive here on the Erie railroad, and will be placed on sale immediately.

LOCAL AUTO DEALER ATTENDS SALES MEET

Fred Haberman Jr. Reports Chevrolet Output To Be Increased.

After returning from a regional sales conference in Cleveland this week, Fred Haberman Jr., manager of the Haberman Chevrolet Co., announced that Chevrolet will begin production Jan. 1 of 1,000,000 cars for 1931.

The step-up in production was made after officials of the company noted a general improvement in the tone of business conditions throughout the country, according to Mr. Haberman.

The Chevrolet Motor Co. last month set a new high record for November, it was anounced in an Associate Press report today, with a production of 47,257 cars. This compares with 46,125 for November, 1929, the previous high record for the eleventh month of the year.

W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager of the company, said that the December schedule was set for about 20,000 more cars than in any previous December in the company's history.

Hoover by Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the board of the United States Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the President's business survey conference.

Barnes told the chief executive business welcomed evidence that Mr. Hoover and the party leaders in congress "seemed determined to put the emphasis on legislation on the necessary appropriation for public administration, and to provide emergency measures to increase employment."

But he coupled it with the hope that no protracted discussion of measures, though worthy in themselves, be allowed to bring the threat of an extra session.

Robinson Makes Plea for Boost in Drouth Relief Appropriation.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5—An urgent plea for the appropriation of $60,000,000 instead of the budget bureau's recommendation of $25,000,000 for drouth relief was made before the Senate agriculture committee today by Democratic leader Robinson of Arkansas.

Senator Robinson said if congress is going to deal with the situation at all, it should do so generously.

throughout the night and jammed the courtroom when the jury was brought in, was quiet when the verdict was read.

50 Ballots Taken

Approximately 50 ballots were taken before the verdict was reached. C. L. Minter of McDonald township, foreman of the jury, presented the written verdict which was read by Clerk of Courts C. C. Stevenson.

An hour and a half after the jury began its deliberations, members were taken to a local restaurant for the evening meal. The menu consisted of porterhouse steak, potatoes, corn, bread, coffee and ice cream and cake.

The successful presentation of the state's case was made by Prosecutor M. B. Underwood, assisted by Attorneys Charles R. Price and H. D. Lease. Counsel for the defense were Dwight and C. M. Cessna and Roy Warren Roof.

Trial Drawn Out

The trial was exceptionally long. Selection of a jury started a week ago Monday. The trial featured the technical testimony of state and defense alienists over the condition of Willis' mind. Final testimony was taken Tuesday.

No time limit was placed on the length of the attorneys' arguments before the jury. Four attorneys summed up the case Wednesday, and Thursday the final pleas were made.

Judge Hoge charged the jury late in the afternoon. He gave them six verdicts to return, first degree murder, first degree murder with mercy, second degree murder, manslaughter, insanity and not guilty.

OHIO ELECTION FIGHT GOES TO HIGH COURT

Pickrel Asks Supreme Judges To Have Him Named Winner for Lieut.-Governor.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 5 — The Ohio Supreme court had before it today the question of whether further vote checking is necessary to settle the contest for lieutenant-governor.

The matter was taken to the high tribunal by William G. Pickrel, Democrat of Dayton, who filed an action yesterday for a writ of mandamus to force Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown to declare him the winner over John T. Brown of Mechanicsburg, the Republican incumbent.

Pickrel, who pointed out that the original returns in the recent election gave him a majority of 216 votes, said in his petition that all evidence of error in the ballot count had been removed by a recertification of precincts in 21 counties and that a further check is unnecessary. Lieutenant Governor Brown has requested a recanvass of the remaining 67 counties, however, and the state canvassing board has asked Attorney General Bettman for an opinion as to the legality of such action.

Pickrel said he has asked the ruling merely to expedite a final decision on the election.

ALL ENDS HAPPILY

70-Year-Old Husband Trades Wife to Friend for Livestock.

By International News Service

MUSCATINE, Ia., Dec. 5 — Alex Grosheim, 70, explained his recent divorce today in the simple statement that he had "traded in" his wife Rosie to his best friend, receiving seven hogs, one dozen chickens and a "fine dog" in return.

After 10 years of married life Grosheim decided he and his wife, Rosie Houp, were not well mated, he said. He decided he wasn't used to matrimony, anyway.

"Of course I didn't want to divorce her without fixing things up so she would have another husband," he said, "so I thought and thought and suddenly remembered my old friend Oscar Vogel."

Grosheim said he told Oscar about Rosie and Rosie about Oscar. A bargain was struck and Rosie procured her divorce. With Grosheim as best man Rosie and Oscar were wed.

"They're on the high seas now," Grosheim added. "I promised I wouldn't tell until they started."

POLICE HERE HOLD TWO WALDO YOUTHS

Officers Investigate Flood of Questionable Checks Passed in Stores.

Two Waldo youths are being held here today while police are investigating a number of questionable checks issued to merchants this week. Charges probably will be filed against them in municipal court today.

Police late yesterday arrested Thomas Brundage when he attempted to pass what police say is a questionable check at the Kleinmaier Bros. clothing store on South Main street. The check was drawn for $23.50 and was signed by "G. O. Miller." The merchants refused to cash the check and called in a policeman who arrested Brundage.

After questioning him, police arrested Dale Kile, who is said to have fled in an automobile parked outside the store when a patrolman took Brundage into custody.

Police are in possession of another check reported to have been passed yesterday by the youths at the Cussins & Fern Co. store on East Center street. The check was drawn for $5.30, the amount due for ammunition purchased at the store. The ammunition is also in possession of police.

Officials today were considering placing a charge of drawing worthless checks against Kile and a charge of passing the checks against Brundage. Kile was fined $25 in municipal court this morning when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving an automobile under an improper license. The charge was brought against him by police following his arrest last night in connection with the checks.

A number of merchants have been victimized with questionable checks the last few days, police report.

Readers of Murder . News Kept Off Jury

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Kas., Dec. 5—Published statements concerning the case have proved a handicap in selecting a jury for the trial of Major Charles A. Shepard, army tuberculosis specialist, charged with the poison murder of his second wife.

A panel of 25 veniremen was under eleventh hour summons to appear in federal court today to replace those excused yesterday because they had read newspaper accounts of the case.

Judge Richard J. Hopkins declared the defendant could not be tried by jurors who had read his statement in a newspaper.

RESINOL HEALS BABY'S RASH

Doctor Recommended It

"A friend recommended Resinol for a rash which covered my baby's body. I thought that I had better take her to the doctor, however. After examining her the doctor looked up and said, "Have you tried Resinol?" I hadn't so he said, "Try it. I think you will find it is just what you need." I did. Result—my baby is entirely free from skin trouble, rash, or any eruption of any kind. I always keep a jar of Resinol on my baby tray." (Signed)—

Books Occupy Spotlight at Meet of Art Club in Library

BOOKS occupied the spotlight in the program of the Art club last evening at the City library. The meeting was open and as its guests, the club entertained Miss Etta Jacoby librarian at Harding High school and the girls who assist her in the work. The girls have been organized as a library council and are studying the work of librarians.

Exhibits from the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts, through the courtesy of Karl Bolander, director, and the Free Public Library of Newark, N. J., added interest to the program.

These exhibits will remain at the library today and Saturday and are open to the public. A member of the Art club will be present to explain the exhibits and answer any questions. The groups may be viewed from 4 to 6 o'clock this afternoon and from 7 to 9 o'clock this evening. Saturday, the public may view them from 1 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Miss Glenna Clevenger opened the meeting last evening with items of interest in the American Magazine of Art for the month of December. Miss Margery Eymon read a lecture on "Book Design," written by Harry Lyman Kootman, librarian at Brown university. Her lecture was illustrated with lantern slides.

A paper by Mrs. Clinton J. Altmaier on "Art in Posters and Book Covers" was illustrated by an exhibit of posters from the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts, and an exhibit "The Physical Features of the Printed Book," sent here by the Newark, N. J., library.

Mrs. Ella Davison Reelected President of D. of U. V. Tent

MRS. ELLA DAVISON was reelected president of Harriet Beecher Stowe Tent No. 48, Daughters of Union Veterans at a meeting last night in the American Legion home. The election of officers followed a business session in which plans were made for future meetings.

In cooperation with the wishes of the state department of the organization, tents over the state will send money this year to start an educational fund at the home instead of sending Christmas gifts to the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors Orphans home at Xenia.

The tent will meet Dec. 17 with Mrs. Gail Montgomery of South Vine street to fill Christmas baskets for the veterans of Cooper Post No. 117, G. A. R., and to fill a basket for a needy family in Marion. The baskets for the veterans will contain fancy fruits and nuts and a gift. The basket for a needy family will be filled with groceries.

Plans were not outlined completely for the program which the tent will give on Dec. 12 in observance of the twelfth anniversary of the founding of the national order of Daughters of Union Veterans.

Families of the members of the tent will be guests at a 6 o'clock dish supper Dec. 18 at the home. In the last month the women of the tent have given $50 in clothing and food to poor families in Marion, according to an estimate made yesterday.

Officers elected with Mrs. Davison were: Mrs. Nellie [illegible] senior vice president; Mrs. [illegible] Kinney, junior vice president; Mrs. Carrie Tuttle, chaplain; Mrs. [illegible] Haberman, council member; Mrs. Chloe McMurray, member No. 2; Mrs. Flora [illegible] council member No. 3; Mrs. [illegible] Rexroth, patriotic instructor.

Dr. T. E. Sonnanstine, director of public safety, left yesterday for a three-days visit at Wadsworth, his boyhood home.

COURT NEWS

File Foreclosures

Three foreclosure suits were started in common pleas court yesterday by the Home Building, Savings & Loan Co. In one suit James M. Bicknell and others are defendants and $2,031 is the amount claimed to be owed on a mortgage.

Helena H. Ackley and others are defendants in another suit in which $4,300 is the amount claimed, while Frank E. Peters and others are defendants in the third petition, in which $3,005.15 is the amount claimed to be due on a mortgage. Hayes Thompson is attorney for the company.

Rehearing Denied

The court of appeals today denied a rehearing of the breach of contract suit brought by the Virginia-Tennessee Grocery Co., Inc., against the former National Milling Co.

The suit was started by the company some time ago and a verdict of $189 was given in municipal court, a decision which the common peas court upheld. The verdict was reversed in the court of appeals, however.

Named by Court

Probate court has appointed Donson W. Lett as executor of the estate of Samuel Lett, and Louvine Balding as administratrix of the estate of William G. Balding.

Asks Divorce

Christian F. Weber today filed suit for divorce in common pleas court from Mary E. Weber on grounds of gross neglect. The plaintiff, who is represented by Attorney W. N. Harder, also asks custody of two minor children. The couple were married on March 27, 1910.

MEN'S BROTHERHOOD WILL SELL TICKETS

Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church Group Plans Benefit Dinner.

The Men's Brotherhood of Forest Lawn Presbyterian church will be in charge of the sale of tickets for the annual benefit supper to be served Thursday night, Dec. 11 in the church dining room. The supper is the annual gift of J. D. Wise & Son, and is open to the club. The money will go to the current expense fund of the church.

The supper was announced at a meeting of the Loyalty Bible class yesterday afternoon with Miss Bessie Wark of East Church street. The women of the church will serve.

Mrs. Clifford Willoughby opened the meeting with devotionals, followed by a roll call of timely quotations. In a business meeting it was voted to adopt bylaws for the class.

Mrs. Emmett Burnette gave a reading, "Criticizing," and Mrs. Gene Winters told a story, "The Back Fence." Mrs. Rilla Post read excerpts from the Forest Lawn Thistledown News.

Two contests were held, prizes going to Mrs. S. D. Ross and Mrs. W. E. Walker. Mrs. Willoughby won the guessing box. The next meeting will be Jan. 8 with Miss Elma Church of East Center street.

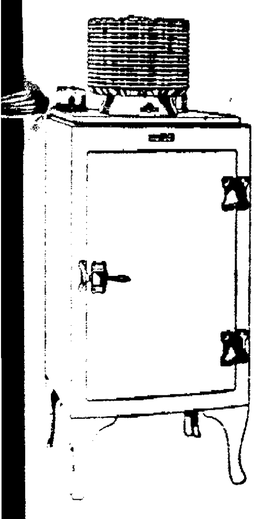
one Christmas Gift that all wives need



Give her a General Electric Refrigerator for Christmas because that is what she needs—really what she most wants—what she will be proud to possess.

Scarcely any present you could possibly give her brings such a wealth of new comfort and convenience for years and years to come.

In giving her a General Electric Refrigerator you will save her hours and days and weeks of worry about spoiled food. You'll give her hours and hours of new freedom for pleasures outside the home. You will save her hours and hours of kitchen cleaning. You will bring her ice cubes and a whole new menu of dainty dishes and desserts.

She would choose General Electric because of its wonderful record of services, because of its guaranteed dependability, because of its Monitor Top containing all the mechanism, permanently oiled and hermetically sealed against air, dirt and moisture.

Its operation costs but a few cents a day for electric current. It soon repays ALL COST by saving food—by eliminating food spoilage. Come to our display rooms and choose the model which fits your kitchen and your pocketbook.

7 Daughters of Old Ireland See Famous Singer

SEVEN of the oldest active members of St. Mary's Catholic parish, their ages totaling 569 years, were special guests at the Thursday matinee showing of John McCormack's talking picture "Song O My Heart," at the Marion theater.

Six of these women are grandmothers, and all of them are either true natives of Ireland, or their parents before them came from the land of Erin.

Mrs. Eliza Cusic, 88, of 344 Mary street, was the oldest member of the group. Mrs. Katherine McMahan, 87, of 402 Commercial street was the second oldest member.

The remaining five were Mrs. Anastasia Judd, 85, of 328 Park boulevard, Mrs. Margaret Younkins, 80, of 293 East Fairground street, Mrs. Anna Salisbury, 79, of 326 Park boulevard, Mrs. Sarah Sweeney, 75, of 497 Silver street and Mrs. Margaret Harlow, 75 of 469 Silver street.

These daughters of Ireland were the guests of J. F. Prendergast. His car called for and returned them to their homes.

For most of them, the picture was their first experience since the advent of the talking before, and the first that they had seen in several years.

FIND AVIATOR DEAD

Body of Ohio Flier Missing Since Nov. 24 Discovered in N. Y. State

By The Associated Press

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 5—The body of William M. Griffin, aviator, today was on the way to Hamilton, Ont., his former home for burial.

Griffin, who in recent years had lived in Berea, O., was killed Nov. 24 after he had taken off in his plane from Buffalo for Cleveland. His body was found yesterday in the wreckage of his plane in a wooded section of the Chautauqua county hills.

Fox hunters came upon the wreckage buried under two feet of snow. A coroner said death probably was instantaneous.

In the wreck were broken bottles which had contained Canadian liquor. Authorities said there was no suspicion of the Berea aviator being a rum runner, but that he probably had stored away a few bottles for friends at home when he took off from Hamilton, Ontario.

Ladies' Aid Society Holds Gift Exchange

The Ladies' Aid society of the Grand Prairie Baptist church held its annual Christmas gift exchange at a meeting Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Benjamin Miley north of Marion.

Mrs. Charles Riley led a devotional service after which Mrs. Harry Wilson and Mrs. W. A. Stewart sang Christmas carols. Mrs. Elery Brewer and Mrs. Harry Paden gave readings. A recitation was given by little Miss Betty Ann Miley.

Refreshments were served to the members and three guests. The society will meet Jan. 7 with Mrs. Fred Myers.

WED 60 YEARS

Ridgeway Couple To Observe Anniversary Sunday.

KENTON, Dec. 5—The sixtieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Ansley, prominent residents of Hardin county, will be quietly observed Sunday at their home in Ridgeway, south of here. The affair which had been planned for a happy occasion has been dimmed by the sudden death of their son, G. L. Ansley, New York Central car shop foreman who was killed October 26 from bullets fired by James Willis 21, on trial here for murder.

Mr. and Mrs. Ansley were married Dec. 6, 1870. Mr. Ansley is 84 years old and is a veteran of the Civil war. Mrs. Ansley is 78 years old. Both have resided in Ridgeway all their lives.

Fiction by any other name would be falsehood just the same.

... Daniels came back ... this group welcomed ...rother. And it was in ...ow that Fanny saw so ... ... made is reasonably ...anny belatedly to sum- ...rage and defy her moth- ...er-in-law. David was desperately busy and spent most of his evenings at the bank. Sheila, the baby, recently had started to a new and most modern kindergarten, which included supervised playtime, nature study and afternoon rambles in the fields.

Fanny avoided arguments about where she was to spend her days by taking Sheila to school mornings and not coming home until time to dress for dinner and to put Sheila to bed. When David went out in the evenings she went out also.

Cloughbarre was too small for Fanny's struggles with her mother-in-law to go unnoticed. They all knew Emma Frost. Fanny had always been popular with the younger people more popular with her elders than her sensitiveness allowed her to realize. There was a good deal of spoken and unspoken sympathy for Fanny; she might easily have found a more judicious confidant than Bob in the very bosom of the Brownbeck family. She could trust Bob never to repeat anything she said to him; that was his strongest appeal.

But it was absurd to believe that Fanny was in love with Bob Daniels. She probably could not have told herself whether she was more than just fond of David; but certainly she was never in love with Bob.

The whole younger crowd flung themselves light-heartedly into the game of baiting the snooty Mrs. Emma Brownbeck Frost by giving Fanny a riotous good time. They dined her and wined her, lunched and teaed her, danced her to her heart's content.

David, in the face of a strong temptation to do otherwise, behaved very well, so well, in fact, that Fanny concluded that he was completely indifferent. This was a little stupid of Fanny—stupid and reckless. She knew that Mrs. Frost was angry—should have guessed that she was eaten up with resentment and bitter chagrin. Mrs. Frost felt herself betrayed publicly humiliated.

David did not care for the Country club set, did not like to have Fanny see much of them. But he was oppressed with a sense of guilt for keeping Fanny in his mother's house. He was glad of anything that amused her or made her happy. If he could he would have gone about with her—but 1921, that year of panic and burst war bubbles, was a hard year for bankers. David was discovering unexpected capabilities in himself. Thrown on his own responsibility he found he could rise to whatever was demanded of him. And he enjoyed it. He worked hard and conscientiously, worked often on his nerve and long after it was wise.

He trusted Fanny absolutely. When his mother told him direly that Cousin Emmeline, Cousin Edna and Cousin Edward Philbrick had come to her with the definite information that Fanny was seeing Bob Daniels almost every day, David said naughtily that he knew all about it, his mother might tell the old hens to mind their own business. That night he asked Fanny rather stiffly please not to see Bob Daniels alone.

"It's not that I mind at all," he hastened to add, "but you know what this town is."

Fanny promised readily enough. Bob had become something of a problem. She was glad of an excuse not to see him alone.

When Bob Daniels out of a clear sky had made the outrageous suggestion to Fanny that she go away with him it was more than half in bitter jest, born that moment out of his longing and desire. Fanny was not in love with him—he knew that. But once the longing was put in words it was easy enough to persuade himself that he could make her happier than David could.

Bob honestly saw Fanny as a lamb led helpless to the sacrifice, and himself powerless to save her except by snatching her up and carrying her to the end of the earth.

Unquestionably he was desperately in love. He was passionately anxious to serve Fanny, to protect and care for her. Night after night he lay awake magnifying her slight pin-pricks into agonies; torn with pity, devastated at his helplessness. Leila and his children meant nothing to him those days; he never noticed his wife's pale cheeks, her tentative advances. He thought of her, if he thought of her at all, as strong and serene and inimical, without human attributes except a desire to crush to nothingness any bumptious magpot who questioned her command. The truth was Leila was beaten and terribly frightened, ready to surrender at the slightest sign of softening from Bob.

Toward the end of October Bob sold for cash the grocery store he had run since his father's death, the sale to be secret until November 1.

"By that time I'll be gone," Bob told Fanny. "You'll be free to enjoy your new friends without the infliction of my presence." He was sulky now that Fanny avoided him.

"You know that's silly. Only I can't listen to you saying things you shouldn't. Nor can I pretend to sympathize with you for going off without a word to Leila," said Fanny severely. Then fearing she had hurt his feelings, she added gently, "Dear Bob. You know what your friendship is to me. It would hurt me terribly to tarnish it."

Bob flung away from her. Later in the week he informed her he was off on the 31st.

"I've got my trunk packed ready to smuggle out of the house. I'm driving to New York—shipping my car to Morocco." It was at a dinner dance—they were dancing together. Tears came to Fanny's eyes—she hardly knew why. Seeing Bob these last weeks, combating his will, was almost as upsetting as a struggle with Mother Frost. Still she would greatly miss him. Her life would be more empty and colorless than ever after he was gone.

"You do care for me a little?" Fan greatest, my darling." He had seen the tears—his arms tightened about her until Fanny could scarcely breathe.

"I do care for you, but not that way. Please, Bob. Alice is watching."

He released her, stalked back to the table. It was half empty. He bent over her to whisper fiercely. "I'll see you before I go."

This was the 29th. The 30th passed the 31st. Fanny lunched at the Country club, played golf afterward, no sign of Bob.

Driving home alone Fanny assured herself she was relieved not to see Bob again and sighed for only the next instant. Elmira Bennett was giving a Big Halloween party that night. Leila had sent regrets for herself and husband, considering that it was too large an affair for them to attend so soon after Bob's father's death. Leila was right, of course, but if Leila allowed Bob to go to the party he couldn't run away from her that night anyway. Perhaps Bob didn't mean to run away after all.

To Be Continued.

FINAL OHIO CENSUS REPORT IS ISSUED

Population 6,646,697, Increase of 15.4 Per Cent Over Decade Ago.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 5. Final population figures for Ohio have been issued by the census bureau at Washington. They appear in the form of a bulletin. On April 1, 1930, the population of Ohio was 6,646,697, the bulletin says. It continued:

This is an increase of 887,303 or 15.4 per cent over Ohio's population in 1920. At the census of 1800, the year in which the area was first separately enumerated, Ohio had 45,365 inhabitants. In the census of 1810, after its admission to the union as a state in 1803, it showed a substantial increase of 230,760, a gain of 408.7 per cent. During the next decade the population more than doubled. Ohio first attained a million population between 1820 and 1840, and from 1840 to 1890 ranked as the third state in the union in the number of inhabitants. The largest numerical increase in any decade was 992,273 in 1910 to 1920. In 1930 it retained its position as fourth state in the union, which it has held since 1890. The total land area of the state is 40,740 square miles. The average number of inhabitants per square mile in 1930 was 163.1 as compared with 141.4 in 1920."

The report places the population of Cleveland at 900,429, the sixth largest in the United States. Cincinnati's population is set finally at 451,160. Dayton, Akron, Toledo, and Columbus are rated as "well over 200,000." Youngstown is given 170,002 and Canton 104,906.

After giving three cheers, one has to sober down and go to work again as usual.

Rich Spend Wisely, Says Gold Coast

"Some girls are silly buyers," declares Alice Lawton. "But most of the rich girls I know buy judiciously. Golden Sun Coffee for instance is a real value. The cost is moderate. Yet, many, many girls I know believe it the most delicious coffee they can find."

Of course Golden Sun Coffee is made of sun ripened berries. These coffee berries are slowly matured. Tedded in the tablelands of the tropics. Moisture is evaporated. Only the marvelous, rich, essential oils are treasured. But you find this rare goodness when roasted and blended ... an almost unbelievable mellow, luscious coffee flavor and fragrance relished in a cup of Golden Sun Coffee.

Every day Independent Grocery Stores realize what a tremendous seller Golden Sun Coffee is. Consequently it is always fresh. The finest families in the world praise it. And there is a coupon for you in every Golden Sun Coffee can. And that saves money.

Next Sunday at dinner is a good time to test Golden Sun Coffee.

The Stars Say---

For Saturday, Dec. 6

THE sidereal operations for this day accent fairly lively and progressive conditions, with a heightened spirit of enterprise and a decisive reaching for advanced goals. In purely independent plans and projects there is more planetary encouragement than in endeavors in connection with employers, as these have a menace of misunderstanding of frustration.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a fairly lively and ambitious year, but one in which the private adventures and aims may flourish rather than those in connection with employers. A child born on this day should be endowed with initiative and ambition, but may succeed best on its own responsibility.

Christmas Party in the GAY Nineties

...mas party of the 90's ...ways a home festi... for who would ...rating himself from ...n this greatest fam... the year?"

...s then as now, had ... galeties, their balls ... folk, their parties ...een, their frolics at ... and in the Sunday ...s and their various ..., but the family ... stir up a lively en... self and for itself ...ive was indeed so ...ished.

...large and roomy in ... The more lavish and ... elegant houses had ball rooms on their upper floor, but everywhere on Christmas eve every room of every home, mansion to cottage was ablaze with light in every room, even the unused parlors thrown open for the family gatherings that began when, at an early hour in the evening the first bevies of them began to arrive, mothers, fathers and children, maiden aunts and bachelor uncles sometimes the family pastor, who had no family of his own or the favorite teacher, standing alone for the holidays, making up the great crowd of them when at last all had arrived.

To the Jingle of Bells

Some of them would come by train in the day time—guests whose arrival caused particular excitement by virtue of the distance perhaps all of fifty or a hundred miles which they had traveled. Some of them would drive up to the door with flourish of jingling sleighbells and a flash of horse and cutter. The farmer brother would bring his family into town in the great bob sled in which he hauled wood in the daytime and others would "walk over," the little youngsters bundled up on their wooden sleds and drawn over the packed snow on the wooden sidewalks to the very door of a hospitable home such as Aunt Martha's.

There were various reasons why Aunt Martha and Uncle Will were customarily the hosts of Christmas eve to a family party. For one thing there was the largest and lowest home in the family. For another, Aunt Martha was the finest cook among the lot of excellent cooks, and she dearly loved the excitement and never minded any of the bother of entertaining.

Old Fashioned Verandah

Her wide and handsome house stood on a corner lot, surrounded by its verandah on the two street sides, with its bay windows downstairs and upstairs, its green shutters outside and its oaken blinds indoors. It was crowned with a magnificent cupola, and was brave with its rococco adornment of porch roof and window frame. Its wide door swung wide to each arriving group, and the gas light flickered out below the fanlight to illuminate the porch and steps and aid the stumbling ones. Her cordial smile and the hearty handshake of Uncle Will went out in welcome as the guests were drawn inside embraced and greeted and directed to bedrooms upstairs or down to remove their wraps. Cutters were driven back into the barn and horses tied in the stalls or unhitched for the hours of their drivers' merrymaking.

By eight o'clock everybody had arrived the multitude of wraps, the lap robes—plush or fur or buffalo hide—and the whips had been disposed variously about the house, the children were already romping through the long halls and sliding hilariously down the banisters, and the sleepy ones among the littlest of them had been made comfortable on the beds to dream their own little dreams of a baby's Christmas eve.

Tree of Importance

Focus point of attention among the youngsters from the first was the tree—one of rearing magnificence, branches almost touching the carpet and the top cut off that would otherwise have swept the ceiling, and the star of tinsel hung upon the topmost twig. Its ornamental glass balls and strings of tinsel caught the reflection of the gas chandelier's glittering pendants, and when, with gay ceremony jolly Uncle Will lit the dozens of colored wax candles all over it as a signal for Santa Claus, many the "ohs" and the "ahs" that met its ravishing splendor.

Santa and His "Brownies"

A band of little "brownies" was commandeered among the youngsters by Santa, and gifts began to come down from the tree, to appear from hidden nooks beneath its branches or behind them, and girls and boys scurried from one to the other of the gay company as names were found on the packages and a child darted to deliver them to their owners.

Jokes flew round and fun ran high in the holiday spirit of the evening rampant everywhere. Somebody suggested a song, about this time, and everybody flocked around the piano where Cousin Mamie, home for the holidays from college, coyly played a few of the skittish songs of the times—"Daisy Bell," and "We Won't Go Home Till Morning," and the like, then, everybody singing with great gusto there followed the favorites from the Family Song Album — "O Susanna," "Old Black Joe," "When You and I Were Young," "Suwanee River," "After the Ball," "White Wings," "Two Little Girls in Blue," and many others. Finally the music struck into a gay quadrille, and every body took partners for a square dance.

"Swing Your Partners"

Back and forth the partners wove, in and out and round and round circling, swinging, shuffling, tripping and diving in and out, while Uncle Will called the figures "swing your partners," "everybody waltz" and all the rest of them.

STREETS of MARION

With The Star Staff

Ohio Leads in Road Mileage

THE state of Ohio leads all others in the total miles of surfaced highways, according to statistics received by Mrs. D. V. Gallagher, secretary of the Marion Auto club, from the American Automobile association, with which the local club is affiliated.

Ohio has 48,503 miles of surfaced roads, while Minnesota is next with 35,501 and New York is third with 32,713, according to the figures Mrs. Gallagher has received. The little state of Rhode Island has the smallest number of miles of such roads, the total mileage being only 1,025.

The nation has a total of 662,664 miles of surfaced roads, of which 206,324 are on state highway systems.

One Use for Gum Chewers

GUM chewers of Marion are unconsciously helping the needy throughout the state as the result of a project on which a local women's club is working.

The club is saving tinfoil from gum wrappers and from other sources and is sending it to a headquarters in Columbus, where the material is sold to raise funds for the needy.

No Frosted Ears for City Clerk

RECENT cold snaps brought no terror for City Clerk Sylvester Larkin. While others were suffering the pain of frosted ears, the city clerk was enjoying the comfort of ear-muffs.

In an apparent effort to save himself from the jests of his fellow workers at city hall, however, he slipped the muffs into his pocket as he neared the city building. But the act was not done soon enough, for several other city employes saw the black muffs disappear.

Find More Cars Than Stolen Here

NEARLY every month, the police department report shows more automobiles recovered than stolen here. Many persons wonder how this is possible.

Police include in the automobiles recovered by the department those found here belonging to residents of other cities and towns. In some cases, all automobiles stolen in Marion during the month have not been recovered, yet the department's report will show several more returned to their owners than stolen.

Crime More Rampant in Daytime Than Night

By International News Service.

NEW YORK — The theoretical revelation that crime is more rampant in the daytime than it is at night has resulted in the New York police department putting almost half the force on day duty instead of evenly dividing them into eight hour shifts.

Crime, nowadays, according to the authorities, is more widespread in the daylight hours than it is in the hours between midnight and dawn. Under the new apportionment plan, between 1,500 to 2,000 additional bluecoats will be added to the daytime force in New York while the night patrol will be reduced by approximately the same number.

NOVEMBER IS BUSY MONTH FOR POLICE

Stolen Goods Valued at $3,745 Recovered, Report Shows.

November was a busy month for city police, the regular report of Desk Sergeant L. E. Reardon, shows.

Stolen goods valued at $3,745 was recovered, including 11 automobiles valued at $5,175. Five bicycles valued at $90 and other merchandise valued at $310 were recovered.

Arrests averaged more than three daily, with a total of 103 for the month. Traffic summons were issued to 195. Complaints handled by the department numbered 457, while 217 police calls were handled.

November weather increased the number of night lodgers to 516. More than 200 meals were served prisoners.

Nine searches for liquor were made. Eight automobiles and seven bicycles were stolen during the month.

"Meanest Burglar" Steals Pastor's Check

By International News Service.

DENVER — Denver police are searching for another "meanest burglar." This one stole a preacher's pay check.

Rev. A. C. Hoover was preaching his first sermon in the Highlands Methodist Episcopal church. He had come here but a few days before from Las Vegas, N. M. He thanked the congregation for the formal welcome they had given him on his arrival here.

Then he returned to his home next to the church and found his home had been looted. Articles valued at $77 were taken, including his first check for $54.

Just as the average man's for fame his pipe goes out.

Y Hums With Activity as Workers Toil To Give Marion Needy Clothing

One of the busiest places in the city these days is the Y. M. C. A. on South State street where volunteer workers are spending hours sorting and putting in shape the clothing and other articles contributed by the citizens of the city for distribution to the community's needy, while others are equally busy filling the orders from the city relief department and Mrs. Jane Alexander, the case investigator, is working under the auspices of the Central Welfare board.

Groups Working

These volunteer workers are as conscientiously concerned with their hours as the worker who punches the time clock and in many instances their day contains as many hours of labor. Yesterday found members of the Woman's Missionary society of Emanuel's Lutheran church sewing and repairing in an all day session and today a large number of the members of the Advance club are doing the work. The Lutheran group has announced its intention of sewing each Thursday while a circle of the Worth M. E. church has chosen Tuesday for their day. Members of the MKYS bridge club sewed Tuesday. Individuals also are contributing their time and work throughout the week and members of the Presbyterian society are taking some of the work to be done in their regular session. Assisting in the distribution of the clothing are a number of the boys belonging to the Y. M. C. A.

That the wish to earn what is given them is paramount in the minds of a large number of applicants is proven by the number of requests to help in repairing the clothing, shoes and other articles, in exchange for the necessities which the extreme times have compelled them to seek here in many instances for the first time. In some cases galoshes and other articles which have been outgrown by the family have been exchanged for something wearable. Today finds more than one woman doing her bit towards earning assistance by darning and sewing and the deftness with which they ply the needle is proof that they are not novices in the business.

Start Card Collection

Mrs. Alexander whose work of investigating cases turned in from the various organizations which make up the Welfare board and also from societies and individuals, keeps her busy for the most part of the day has established office hours from 1 to 3 p. m. each week day. During this time persons may see her in her office on the second floor of the Y. M. C. A. building.

The work of collecting the cards which were distributed last week by the Boy Scouts is being cared for through the schools and it is expected that by tonight the majority of them will have been returned.

Youth Gives Report of Kansas City Trip

WALDO, Dec. 5 — Miss Doris Shultz entertained the Faithful Reapers class of the Saint Joseph's Reformed Sunday school Wednesday night. During the business period officers for the coming year were nominated to be elected at the next meeting. Lowell Conklin gave a talk on his trip with the F. F. A. band in Kansas City.

ROCKNE MAY SPRING BAG OF TRICK PLAYS IN TITLE CONTEST

California To Rely on Power Plays To Overwhelm Notre Dame.

BY BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5—As Notre Dame's rough, tough team neared Los Angeles today their Saturday opponents, the powerful University of Southern California eleven, ran away.

The Californians were in full flight, but not from their adversaries on the football field. They fled from their friends and well wishers.

Long before Coach Knute Rockne led his Indiana stalwarts out of Tucson, Ariz., on the last lap of their long trail, Coach Howard Jones slipped his Trojans away to an unidentified city.

Whether the Notre Dame wonder team could round out its second successive season without a defeat rested on the lap of the football gods and the mighty men of Troy.

As the Notre Dame players sped toward the battleground, their heads were filled with "trick stuff," Rockne's famous strategy. Southern California is not so crafty but Coach Jones believes in power with a capital "P".

Cunning vs. Brawn

With the climax game a full day away the railbirds thought the struggle might develop into a battle of giants employing vastly different tactics. Should the commanders from their conning towers on the bench elect to pit cunning against brawn, the resulting maneuvers may be as interesting as the 88,000 prospective customers expect.

One of the most closely watched players in the ranks of the invaders will be Bert Metzger, 154-pound guard, little for a guard but said to be hard as his coach's nickname.

The field tomorrow afternoon will

HALF MILLION SEE IRISH PLAY

By The Associated Press

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 5—Notre Dame's all-conquering football team of 1930 will fall short by about 25,000 in its ability to attract fans as compared with last year's crews.

Although the "Fighting Irish" will have helped pack five stadiums, including that at the University of Southern California Saturday, they haven't attracted very large crowds at their new home stadium.

Counting Saturday's promised crowd of approximately 90,000 fans, this year's team will have attracted about 525,000. Last years "road" team played before 545,000.

PRINCES LOSE NINE

Heidelberg Awards 19 Letters; Marion Boy on List.

By The Associated Press

TIFFIN, O., Dec. 5—Nine lettermen, including the three outstanding stars of Heidelberg college's 1930 football squad, will graduate next spring, leaving only two veterans around which the coaches can build a grid machine for next season. Letters were awarded 19 players at a dinner here last night.

The lettermen who will graduate are Francis Spicer, Akron; H. S. Scalfe, Tiffin; James Fingerhuth, Tiffin; Dwight Haley, Tiffin; Paul Sherck, Tiffin; Merle Hutson, Bradner, Andrew Gulmi, Cleveland; Otto Vokaty, Cleveland, and John Hutchinson, Wadsworth. Vokaty, Haley and Hutson, all-Ohio men, were the stars of this year's team.

Others awarded letters included Donald Taylor, Marion, and Charles Wilcox Marysville.

Sunday School Teams Play Saturday Night

ROCKNE'S MEN MEET TROJANS

Standing on the threshold of another mythical national football championship, the boys from Notre Dame, who have ridden over some of the best in the country, will wind up the season in a game with Southern California at Los Angeles next Saturday. Schwartz, hero of the Army game, and Metzger, of Notre Dame and Arbelbide and Baker, Trojan warriors, are among teams' great stars who will be seen in the game.

YOUNGSTERS PROVIDE A. L. BATTING PUNCH

Only Three Veterans Drive in More Than 100 Runs While 12 Young Stars Turn Trick.

By United Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 5—Additional proof of the quality of young American league players was furnished today by the official records of runs batted in, bases on balls, hit by pitcher and strikeouts.

Fifteen players batted in 100 or more runs during the season—an increase of five over 1929 despite the league's admittedly stronger pitching—and of the 15 only three, Babe Ruth, Goose Goslin and Bing Miller, belong in the veteran class.

Lou Gehrig, Yankee first baseman, led the league with 174 runs batted in, coming within one of equalling his own former world record. Al Simmons and Jimmy Foxx of the Athletics and Babe Ruth each drove in more than 150 runs, while Bing Miller fifteenth on the list, drove in an even 100.

Babe Ruth again led the league in passes received with 136 in 145 games, while Max Bishop of the Athletics drew 128 for second place. Gehrig, only other players above the 100 notch, drew 101 passes.

The New York Yankees led the league both in strikeouts and passes. In collecting 644 passes the Yanks added 90 to their 1929 total and were within 37 of the world record established by Detroit in 1915.

The Yanks gathered 569 of the league's 4,088 strikeouts. Washington had the least, 438. The league total was an incerase of 510 for the season. Bases on balls decreased from 4,064 in 1929 to 3,975 last season.

Foxx of Philadelphia and Morgan of Cleveland tied for most times struck out with 66 each with Joe Sewell, Cleveland infielder, again having the fewest strike outs among the regular players with three in 109 games.

OPEN NET SEASON

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 5—Michigan and Minnesota will open the firing in the 1930-31 Big Ten basketball campaign tomorrow night by meeting non-conference opponents on their home floors. Michigan will start against the Western State Teachers of Kalamazoo, Mich., while the Gophers tackle South Dakota State.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

By The Associated Press

LONDON, England—Dave Shade, California, and Jack Hood, British middleweight champion, drew, (12).

CINCINNATI — Joe Anderson, Covington, Ky., outpointed Cowboy Jack Willis, San Antonio, Tex., (10).

MIAMI, Fla.—Jack Roper, Miami, knocked out Jack McDonald, Louisville, Ky., (1).

EASTERN FOOTBALL SEASON NEARS END

Four Games on Tap for Saturday; Army-Navy Tussle Set for Next Week.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 5—A four-gun salute to the 1930 eastern football war will be fired tomorrow, leaving only the final rumble of the Army-Navy fray a week later to end the season.

Colgate and New York university meet in a benefit game Carnegie Tech and Washington and Jefferson were originally scheduled to meet a week ago. Navy meets Pennsylvania at Philadelphia while Western Maryland, the east's lone undefeated team, tackles Maryland at Baltimore in the fourth.

Navy and Penn both have poor records and injuries are liable to hamper both teams. The Midshipmen with a good first team but few reserves, now find that Joe Tschirgi and possibly Lou Kirn, two of their most effective backs, will be missing.

Akron Negro Fighter Sustains Brain Injury

By The Associated Press

ASHTABULA, Dec. 5—Jimmy Grant, young Akron Negro welterweight, was in a critical condition today as the result of injuries suffered during a boxing match with Red Sharp of Warren last night.

Grant, knocked down in the third and seventh rounds, was unconscious and his left side paralyzed. Hospital attaches said he had suffered a brain injury that might necessitate an operation.

MUSKIES LOSE SEVEN

By The Associated Press

NEW CONCORD, O., Dec. 5—Seven of thirteen lettermen of the Muskingum college 1930 football team will be lost by graduation the coming spring, leaving a half dozen experienced players for the 1931 grid machine.

BIG TEN MEET

CHICAGO, Dec. 5—The fate of Northwestern university's offer of $100,000 for charity was before the Big Ten faculty committee on Athletics, and athletic directors and coaches had a docket of routine business to handle at their annual meeting today.

THREE GAMES MARK CLOSE OF OPENING WEEK'S SCHEDULE

St. Mary's Contest at Columbus Canceled; Shovel Y-Indus at Defiance.

THREE GAMES

THE first week's schedule of games in the Sunday School Basketball league will be completed Saturday night in the Y. M. C. A. gym when six teams of the Senior league will engage in contests.

Trinity Baptist will meet Waldo Lutheran. Prospect will play Epworth M. E. and Lee Street Presbyterian will tangle with First Presbyterian on a three-game program which will open at 7:15 p. m.

Although the Sunday School leagues opened play last Tuesday night, the Senior league has been forced to play half of its games each week on Saturday night due to the size of the loop, 12 teams being members of the league this year.

While the church fives are fighting it out Saturday night, the Shovel Y-Indus, after three straight victories, will travel to Defiance to meet Defiance college of the Northwest Ohio conference.

St. Mary's was to have played Columbus Holy Name at Columbus Saturday night but the latter school was forced to cancel because of failure to obtain a playing floor. St. Mary's will meet Mt Vernon on the Star auditorium floor next Friday night in the Irish team's next home game. They opened with a victory here last week over Sidney Holy Angels, 16 to 11.

Harding High will not open its season until next week, the Presidents having a game booked with Kenton High at Kenton on Friday night. The N. C. O. league schedule does not open until Jan. 2 when Mansfield will come here. The President's first home game is with Delaware here on Dec. 19.

The county basketball season opens tonight when eight of the 10 teams will see action. In the eastern district, Claridon plays at Caledonia and Kirkpatrick visits Waldo, while in the western division Prospect will play at Pleasant township and Morral will open at LaRue. Both boys' and girls' games are on the schedule in each instance.

Martel, of the eastern district, and Green Camp, in the western, do not open their schedules until next Friday night. Agosta and Meeker are not in the league this year since they have no home gymnasiums on which to play their games.

Central Junior High school's quintet is scheduled to open its season tonight against the alumni at the Y. M. C. A.

"RED" GRANGE MAY APPEAR IN MARION

Harold "Red" Grange, the phantom flash of football, may appear at a local theater next month, it was learned today.

The former Illinois halfback is interlocutor of a minstrel show which may be booked at the Ohio Theater for several days' run late in January according to J. J. Hubbart, manager, who is conducting negotiations which may bring the show here.

Grange flashed into prominence several years ago when, as a sophomore, he scored four touchdowns in the first quarter of a game with Michigan. Reentering the contest in the last half he scored a fifth touchdown. He carried the ball only five times and each time scored.

Varsity Football Is Abandoned at Loyola

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 5—Football will be played in Loyola university's concrete stadium next season, but it won't be inter-collegiate football.

President Robert M. Kelley, S. J., last night announced that Loyola had decided to drop inter-collegiate football, because "it is our belief that the interest and appeal of these spectacular football games are getting away from the colleges and universities and are being centered on the public, or, in other words, the colleges and universities are competing with entertainment agencies, rather than serving the chief purpose of athletics which is for physical development of the entire student body."

14 TO GET AWARDS

By The Associated Press

KENT, O., Dec. 5—Gridiron warriors of Kent State college, numbering 14, will be awarded letters at a banquet Dec. 15. Only four lettermen will be lost by graduation—Charles Kilbourne, Kent; Art Stejskal, North Olmsted; Phil Bary, Ravenna, and Ted Sapp, Kent.

was thankful that he did not see me, for the "cat and canary" expression which was in his eyes as he watched Dicky gave me a sudden revulsion of feeling. He so patently shared my feeling concerning the opportuness of the telephone message, that for a flaming second I was savagely glad Dicky had smashed his gift. Then my sense of justice asserted itself, and I tried to look at the whole situation dispassionately, and as it must appear to those "best friends" of Dicky and me, the Underwoods. We heard her plainly answer Dicky's "hello, there!" with a gurgling "Oh! Dicky darling, I've just opened this—" and then we heard no more, for he spoke rapidly and emphatically:—

A Cool Answer

"Oh! yes, yes. Glad you like it. But it's nothing to rave over, just a part recognition of the way you've worked over the magazine. I've been an awful slacker on the job lately, as you've reminded me more than once. It's more an apology than a Christmas present. Please cut out the thank yous. Merry Christmas to you and all the rest of it. No, I haven't opened anything yet. I'll look for it. Thank you, anyway. Yes we are fairly busy, a houseful of dancing collegians, and the rest of us down in the basement, fixing up a playroom for the youngsters. I'll do that little thing. Good-night."

Whatever Edith's side of the telephone colloquy, it was completely drowned by Dicky's voice, and when he turned from the telephone, it was with the air of a man who has just come through a trying situation with unexpected success.

"Can't you see it?" Mr. Veritzen was saying—after that first smugly satisfied look with which he had listened to Edith's voice caroming through the room he had ignored Dicky's monologue and given himself to a close survey of the alcove platform which we had provided for any possible dramatic aspirations of our juveniles. "With perhaps a day's work you could rig up a very creditable stage here with footlights and wings, and yes—as his eyes traveled to either side of the alcove—"with tall screens you could manage tiny dressing rooms. Won't you let me have the fun of doing this for Junior? I can have a couple of men come down any day, after I've done some measuring and told them what I want. You cannot imagine how much pleasure it would give me to plan for a child again."

FARM GROUP MEETS

Antrim Township Organization Elects Officers for Year.

WYANDOT, Dec. 5—A large company attended the annual meeting of the Antrim Township Farm Bureau held at the schoolhouse Wednesday night. The president, Amos Hite, presided and addresses were given by officials from the State Farm Bureau office in Columbus. William Barden of the county office at Upper Sandusky also talked. A vocal solo by Mrs. Myron Case with violin accompaniment by Mrs. Alice Rittespaugh and piano by Miss Grace Bachell, and several selections by the Grand Prairie orchestra, completed the program.

The annual election of officer resulted as follows: president, Amos Hite; vice president, Myron Case; secretary-treasurer, Grace Bachell.

Following the program an oyster supper was served.

A fire was discovered Thursday morning at the C. S. Dicks home on the Jay DeLee farm east of Wyandot. The odor of burning cloth caused the members of the family to investigate and the upstairs was discovered to be filled with smoke. A stove pipe running through the ceiling had become overheated and burned the floor for several feet around and also clothing hanging on a nearby wall. Help was summoned and the fire was extinguished. The loss was estimated at $50.

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

—BY JUDD St. LEWIS—

TODAY was Friday. I thought about Christmas. Every time I think about Christmas I feel sorry that my father and mother are such poor folks. Santa Claus don't bring such nice things to poor folks as he does to rich folks.

When I had let Jubilee down by his rope and had went down and milked the dummed brutes till my hands felt like clubs they were so cold, and went in to breakfast, I asted my mother how it comes that Santa Claus don't bring poor folks such nice things as he brings rich folks, and she said things have to be divided up, so Santa Claus brings the nicest little boys and girls to the poor folks and the nicest toys to the rich ones, and she asted me if I knowed any rich folks that have got such a nice little boy and girl as me and Annabelle Lee, and of course I had to say I don't I said I wasn't thinking about me, I was just wishing he would bring my father a flivver and a big hairy overcoat, and my father said he guest he wasn't much of a success as a father and husband or he would have been able to earn such things but he loved me a lot, and then he reached across the corner of the table and pulled me over to him and kissed me. Gosh, I felt funny. I don't remember when he has kissed me before. But it felt kinda good.

My mother went around the table and put her arms around his neck and said he was the best husband any woman ever had, and she hoped me and Annabelle Lee would grow up to be just like him. I said I hoped Annabelle Lee wouldn't, because she wouldn't like to have to shave every day when she got grown up. Then even my ant laughed. When it gets near Christmas everybody gets lovinger and it isn't just so they will get Christmas gifts.

Nibs is all right and has been tooken home again. We went around to his house and we couldn't be let in to see him, and there was too much frost on the window for us to peek through. His grandmother came out on the step with a shawl around her and said his being hurt was a blessing in disguise, because everyone had been so kind to them and they had coal and canned goods to last all winter. We wished we had some money to get some cans of things for them, and Banty said he could bring them a can of paint. His father is a painter. I told him he is crazy. If there wasn't any poor folks there wouldn't be any kindness in the world, so I guess it is a good thing.

Feeble started to show us how she can walk on her hands, but I told her to get right side up or she would freeze to death. She said I would have to wear mourning if she did. I told her I would put a feather in my hat, and she smacked me with a snowball when I was laughing and I almost got choked.

Case No. 11188

MRS. W. J. GORTON CLAIMED BY DEATH

Rites for Wife of Marion Lumber Man To Be Held Monday.

Funeral services for Mrs. Catherine May Gorton, 62, wife of William J. Gorton, president and treasurer of the Marion Lumber Co. will be held Monday at 2 p m at the home at 340 Lafayette street.

Mrs. Gorton, who had been an invalid for the last eight years, suffering with arthritis, died suddenly of a heart attack, yesterday at her home. Although she had been an invalid over that period of time she was known to many in Marion for her quiet philanthropic work.

She was a member of Epworth M E church, of Canby Temple No. 152 Pythian Sisters and Harriet Beecher Stowe Tent No. 18, Daughters of Union Veterans.

Besides her husband she leaves a son Clifford LeRoy Gorton of 232 South High street, three granddaughters, Martha Ann, Mary Catherine and Renee Annette Gorton, and a brother, Fred W. Huggins of Bellevue avenue.

Mrs. Gorton was born in Marion Aug. 3, 1868 to William and Sophronia Loebrick Huggins, both natives of Marion county. She was married here May 21, 1893 to Mr. Gorton.

Dr. C. E. Turley, pastor of Epworth M. E. church will officiate at the services. Interment will be made in Marion cemetery. Friends may view the body at the home.

14 Injured in Drop of Akron Elevator

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., Dec. 5—William Boring, 48, sustained two fractured ankles, Miss Lucile Carter, 26, sustained a broken leg and 12 others were bruised when a B. F. Goodrich company elevator dropped two and a half floors yesterday. A safety device stopped the carrier which had gone out of control.

Daily Proverb—"A judicious silence is always better than truth spoken without charity."

Woodhull, New York, has gone twelve months without a crime in its limits and is planning to abandon its jail. Every city and town should at once write and get the recipe.

Up to date, Postmaster Brown has been unable to locate a sponsor for his two-and-a-half-cent postage rate. Our idea of nothing to worry about is the possibility that he may never find one.

A Pennsylvania woman who had lost her power of speech had it restored by coughing as the result of a cold she was suffering. The danger which lurks in colds can hardly be overestimated.

The census bureau reports that mattresses, pads, springs and related products to the value of $119,292,000 were shipped or delivered in 1929 against $98,834,558 in 1927. Have you noticed a twenty per cent. improvement in your sleeping?

President Allen Hoben, of Kalamazoo college, says that efficiency as we are developing it gives him a cold chill; that we apply it to everything with the result that it is hampering America's fun. Anyway, doctor, hampering anything should be great fun for the efficiency fellows.

Denial comes from both Washington and London that agreement has been reached by the United States and Great Britain on the freedom of the seas. All wasted effort. There will be no freedom of the seas so long as Great Britain holds a preponderance of sea power.

One American cigaret corporation reports that its sales thus far this year exceed by approximately 5,000,000,000 cigarets those of last year. Really, girls, isn't that going it pretty strong?

The two John D. Rockefellers subscribed $1,000,000 to New York City's emergency unemployment fund, boosting it well above the $4,000,000 mark. What every city needs in the present situation is two or three citizens of the Rockefeller brand who are willing to give of what they have, which many cities, unfortunately, have found are great rarities.

The New York State Industrial Safety council in session in Syracuse is impressed by the view that the employe of forty-five or over, either in business or industry, is the one which counts, giving his employer the greatest return. Evidently the council is made up of practical men and not of theorists.

For Improved Radio Service.

Looking to better radio transmission, and thus better radio reception, a monitor station has been installed at Grand Island, Nebraska, to test the wave lengths being used by the various broadcasting stations of the country for careless operation or temporary misadjustments of broadcasting instruments.

What is referred to as the aerial "ear" of the station covers something like forty acres of land. It consists of miles upon miles of wire strung upon high poles evenly spaced over the tract. Long wires dangle from this overhead system and carry electrical impulses into three special receiving sets, which are so finely adjusted as to respond to the slightest electrical current. These sets, which are sufficiently sensitive to be responsive to impulses from stations in any part of the country regardless of the location of such stations, constitute the heart of the monitory system.

It is explained by those in charge of the work that a standard frequency is set up in a receiver and the signal of an incoming station is imposed upon this. If the distant station is on its exact wave length, or frequency, it will meet the standard beat of the receiver perfectly and produce clear signals. If it does not, the monitors will know that the sending station is off its wave length, is not properly adjusted or is being operated carelessly. Whatever may be the reception from a station, it is to be reported by the monitors to the federal radio commission, which will take action against broadcasting stations found to be at fault in one way or another.

One of the annoyances suffered by the radio listener in is the howling sound which results when two stations overlap each other. It is hoped to eliminate this annoyance by rigidly keeping every station on its assigned frequency. The system also will detect unlicensed stations, the operation of which so frequently interferes with good reception from licensed stations.

If the system, in operation, performs up to anything like what is claimed for it in theory, it is bound greatly to improve transmission and add in a marked degree to the pleasure of owners of receiving sets whose enjoyment of programs is frequently marred at present by blurred or distorted reception.

Put Teeth Into the Immigration Law.

Even with an eye to America to give prolonged study to the matter, it is hardly probable that we could hit upon a policy which would have greater appeal to the communist element which our leaders than that which we have been following for years in handling red demonstrations.

In the earliest features, the story of any one of these red gatherings is the story of all. Ninety nine times out of a hundred, these red demonstrations are staged by aliens. If they march to the designated place of meeting, they usually carry subversive banners and the van of the column of marchers is made up of women or children, or both, for a purpose well understood. If the police authorities cannot be provoked into activity by seditious utterances the demonstrators invariably resort to some other course to invite attack. A few are beaten up and a few arrests are made for resisting arrest, or rioting, or some such charge. It is usually the case that there are anywhere from fifty to a hundred onlookers, attracted by curiosity, to each demonstrator. Some of these curious usually suffer with the demonstrators in the matter of bodily hurts, and a great hullabaloo is raised in consequence. The next day the story of red activity is printed in practically every paper in the land. The reds have accomplished their purpose. The authorities and the press have played into their hands and given the agitators the publicity they sought.

The recent demonstration on the capitol grounds coincident with the opening of congress is a case in point. Three or four hundred reds, backed by an organization for the protection of the foreign-born in the country, assembled and demanded that all restrictions on immigration be removed, and that so much of the immigration law as works to exclude those who do not believe in and oppose organized government be rescinded.

Thus confessing themselves to be disbelievers in and opposed to organized government, why should such demonstrators be permitted to take advantage of the protection of the laws of organized government? A few of the demonstrators were arrested and their punishment, if any, will probably be something like a gentle slap or two on the wrist. Instead, why should not the whole pack of them have been shipped out of the county?

In his annual message to congress President Hoover emphasized the need for revision of our immigration laws upon a more limited and selective basis, and flexible to meet the needs of the country. "I urge the strengthening of our deportation laws so as to more fully rid ourselves of criminal aliens," the message read. "Furthermore, thousands of persons have entered the country in violation of the immigration laws. The very method of their entry indicates their objectionable character, and our law-abiding foreign-born residents suffer in consequence. I recommend that the congress provide methods of strengthening the government to correct this abuse."

If congress acts upon the President's recommendation, why should it not put real teeth into the law, and give it the force of the laws of most foreign countries under which undesirable aliens may be deported summarily? Isn't it about time to stop playing the reds' game and to begin to work for our own interests, law, order and good government?

And as for organizations such as the one that backed the capitol demonstration, and the half-baked Americans usually found giving aid and comfort to the foes of government, why not mix up a strong dose of legal medicine for them?

There is no occasion for any organization to protect the foreign-born in the United States. Our laws are ample, and protect them as they should protect all who come to live among us and obey the legal regulations framed for citizens and aliens alike. But they should not protect those who come to spread sedition and advocate the overthrow of our government. All such should be outcasts so far as their right to residence in this country is concerned.

A Washington correspondent holds that the real reason the senate overrode Senator Nye and gave James J. Davis his seat was not that it disregarded the Nye charges, but rather that it wished to get rid of Senator Grundy. If the latter has to such an extent been a thorn in the side of the senate, it might have been well had he been nominated and elected.

The suggestion has been offered that the government issue bonds for $1,000,000,000 for unemployment relief. Figuring that there is always about 1,000,000 idle in the country, that would mean $500 to carry each of the other [illegible] over the winter. Some relief, that!

During the first nine months of the present year 1,257,304 used cars were purchased on the installment plan against 1,144,978 new cars on the same method of financing, while the installment sales for the same period in 1929 were 1,213,708 used cars and 1,517,520 new ones. Now, who ever imagined the Wall Street financial debacle would affect motor car sales like that?

HIS FIRST TASK.

Editorial Opinion.

THE UNITED STATES NOT ANXIOUS.

We have come across this excerpt from a contribution in Current History by J. C. Stevenson: "Canadians desire to live in peace and amity with their American neighbors, but they have not the slightest intention of foregoing their present position as an autonomous partner in the British commonwealth of nations for the sake of the greater economic prosperity which absorption in the United States would undoubtedly bring."

Nearly all writers who discuss the perennial question of a possible political amalgamation with Canada appear to be laboring under the impression that this country is waiting, eager and anxious, for the Dominion to indicate a desire to become a part of the United States, and that upon voicing such a wish, it will be received instanter with open arms.

We do not believe there is justification for any such assumption. We believe that the people of this republic as a whole are very well satisfied to have things as they are, with Canada a good neighbor, running its political affairs independently. And we are confident that if the question of annexation ever should arise seriously, there would be fully as much opposition on this side the border as there would be on the other side, and perhaps more.

Consolidation of the two nations which make up English-speaking North America would be a fearfully difficult thing, and the ultimate success of the undertaking would be extremely uncertain. There would be clashes of ideas, clashes of standards,, clashes of tradition and clashes of general viewpoint toward life which could be reconciled only by the exercise of almost infinite wisdom and almost infinite patience, and whatever may be the equipment of the people of Canada, the people of the United States certainly have neither.

Consolidation of the United States and Canada would be a calamity for which, we believe, thoughtful leadership on this side of the frontier would not care to be responsible.—Detroit Free Press.

Was This Fort Ancient?

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

Probably the first observation upon and written account of Fort Ancient was made by James Smith, a clergyman of Powhattan county, Virginia, who made a tour of the Miami valley on horseback in the year, 1783, and being a good observer, noted many mounds and banks in that vicinity, which could not have been formed by the processes of nature.

He referred briefly to these in his diary story of the trip, but of what was probably our Fort Ancient, he went into greater detail. "About 11 o'clock," he writes—this seems to have been on the 18th of November—"we came to Dunlap's station, where the river makes a large bend in the form of a horseshoe and encircles a beautiful flat of considerable extent. In the bend of the horseshoe above mentioned is a neck of land about 400 or 500 yards wide. Across this neck of land lies an old wall joining the river at each end and enclosing, I suppose, about 100 acres of land.

"This wall is composed of earth dug from the outside, where a ditch of some depth is still discernible. The wall at present is so mouldered down that a man could easily ride over it. It is, however, about ten feet, as near as I could judge, in perpendicular height, and gives growth to a large number of trees.

"In one place I observed a breach in the wall about sixty feet wide, where, I suppose, the gate formerly stood through which the people passed in and out of this stronghold. Compared with this, what feeble, insignificant works are those at Fort Hamilton and Fort Washington. They are no more in comparison with it than a rail fence is to a brick wall."

The "Awkward" Stage of Life.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Boys and girls twelve to sixteen years of age have their own problems. They are at a time of life when rapid growth and development produce conditions that demand special attention.

This may be called the "awkward period" of life. The young folks don't know what to do with their long legs. Their growing hands and feet are in the way. There are strange emotions stirring in their hearts.

Sometimes there is a feeling of loneliness, a sense of aloofness, a suspicion that their elders do not understand them. This is the time they need advice, but the young things don't know where to get it. They don't want to be laughed at or scolded. They don't know where to turn.

I get many letters from men and women who write to me because, they say, I am sort of impersonal individual. They would not face the family doctor with the questions they put to me. It is easier to write an outsider, although he is a stranger, but made at least half a friend, perhaps, by reason of his familiar writings.

Well, boys and girls, I am at your disposal. If you have problems, so have a million of other young people. If you tell me what troubles you, it may help me to assist a multitude of others who are having thoughts and anxieties exactly like yours.

I do wish to say this right now: Because you wonder about life, don't be distressed about it. Many of your strange feelings, probably all of them, are just the same feelings your parents and all the rest of their generation had. Every one of your ancestors went through the same stage. The fact that they became ancestors proves that nothing ill in their effects can happen as a result of the symptoms you observe in yourself.

Nothing is more terrible than the fear that you are abnormal. You may wonder sometimes if what you go through is not a sign that you are not normal. It isn't. As a matter of fact, you wouldn't be normal if you did not have these symptoms. They are really the sure signs of your normal state.

If you write to me, in care of the paper where you read this, the kindly editor will forward a letter to me. But being assured that what you experience just now is what every older person has experienced, may give you the comfort I want you to have.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

BETTY. Q—What can be done for a growth of down on the face, which seems to be growing more noticeable? Will glycerine tend to cause a growth of hair? My skin is very dry, and my face burns and is red most of the time. I do not perspire, and thought that this fact may have a bearing on the other trouble.

A—For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope, and repeat your question. Greasy creams and oily preparations tend to cause a growth of hair. Improve your general health and you will probably notice a general improvement.

MRS. F. E. T. Q—Would a goitre be apt to cause pains and aches in the chest and sides as well as the back? Whenever I do a little work to which I am unaccustomed, I feel the effects. What would you advise? My doctor has advised that it will take time to cure the goitre.

A—I doubt that the goitre would cause these symptoms. Have an examination to locate the cause of the trouble. Do not overdo or overexert. Goitre demands specific attention and treatment, since each patient presents a different problem.—Copyright, 1930, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Ptolemy, Unknown Giant of Science.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

Among the men, only eight in number, pronounced by Bernard Shaw to be makers of universes, stands the name of Claudius Ptolemy. Although this figure emerges from the mists of antiquity as one of the pre-eminent masters in astronomical science, almost nothing is known either of his life or career. It is known that he was a native of Alexandria, but the year of his birth is unknown. He was certainly making astronomical observations as early as 127 A. D.; and he was in the full tide of his fame about the year 150. Just three centuries earlier, or about 150 B. C., flourished Hipparchus, upon whose work Ptolemy based his own remarkable system. It was a triumph of mathematical ingenuity; and the skill with which this complex system of epicycles and eccentrics was worked out remains a source of amazement, even at the present day.

The Ptolemaic theory assumes the immobility of the earth, the revolution of the sun around the earth, and the daily rotation of the whole universe around the earth as a center. It was assumed that a planet moved in a circle around an imaginary point, while this imaginary point described a circle around the earth. Ptolemy uses a system of epicycles; and it is necessary to know what an epicycle is. Suppose a motorist picks up a nail in the tire of his automobile. The head of the nail stuck in the tire traverses or describes in space a curve as the automobile travels along. This curve described by the nail-head is called an epicycle. If you imagine the automobile traveling around a huge circle, the nail-head describes the kind of epicycle used by Ptolemy in his work.

A simple mechanical contrivance will give a good idea of the sort of mathematical figure Ptolemy used in his astronomical system. Imagine two arms fixed to one another, each swinging freely. The circular motion of the first arm carries the second arm around with it; and all the while, the second arm describes a circular motion on its own account. The figure described in space by the end of the second arm is called an epicycle or epicycloid. It is of the same general form as the apparent motions of the planets across the heavens. In modern times, the motions of the bodies in the solar system were calculated from the sun taken as center, which greatly simplified the mathematical problems involved.

It was the behavior of the lower planets, Venus and Mercury, which suggested the mechanism resorted to by Ptolemy. Each of these planets appears first on one side of the sun and then on the other; and it seemed as if each accompanied the sun in its annual journey across the sky from west to east.

As scientists say, the epicycle method "saved the phenomena" at the crucial points. But unfortunately, at other points, it exaggerated the variations in the sun's and moon's distances from the earth. After all, Ptolemy's system was a stop-gap scheme at best. If you got the answer right at one place, that threw things out of gear at other places.

As an authority, John Dreyer, has well said that "the system as a whole deserves our admiration as a ready means of constructing tables of the movements of sun, moon and planets can not be denied. Nearly in every detail—except the variations of distances of the moon—it represented geometrically these movements almost as closely as the simple instruments then in use enabled observers to follow them, and it is a lasting monument to the great mathematical minds by whom it was gradually developed. It appears from many statements, not only of Ptolemy himself, but also of his commentators, that they merely considered the numerous circles as a convenient means of calculating the positions of the planets."

Although the Almagest on Syntaxis of Ptolemy contains results which are erroneous, and his system was only a very ingenious approximation, it was not displaced for about fourteen centuries. The original edition of Ptolemy's writings, in Latin, did not appear until the year 1515. Only twenty-eight years appeared the famous "De Revolutionibus" of Copernicus. Ptolemy was displaced from the throne where he had reigned for so many centuries, in favor of the new monarch, Copernicus.—Copyright, 1930, International Feature Service, Inc.

A Washington Daybook.

BY HERBERT PLUMMER.

Washington, Dec. 5—Henry Allen, of Kansas, didn't stay in the United States senate very long, but the time he was there were eventful days for him.

He came to Washington in April of 1929 to take the seat vacated by Vice President Curtis. And now, a little more than a year later he is back in Kansas, a private citizen.

But he made the most of it when he was a senator. He wasted no time in projecting himself into the limelight. That sharp tongue of his was unloosed almost immediately, with the result that fur began to fly.

A newcomer to the senate usually is seen and not heard at first. Allen's aggressiveness and activity were bound to stir up something. He came to bat for the administration from the very start.

And the oldtimers got set for him.

The clash over the debenture clause in the farm bill during the special session last year is an illustration of how he managed to flick some of the veterans on the raw.

Borah and Copeland, of New York, got the idea that Allen was insinuating that their pro-debenture votes were based on a desire to embarrass the President. It takes a man who is pretty sure of himself to challenge Borah in debate. For a newcomer to do so makes it the more daring.

Borah branded Allen's remarks as "a cowardly insinuation"—a rather strong statement for one senator to make to another. And Copeland let it be known that he felt the same way about the matter.

But it was the sarcastic, hard-hitting Caraway, of Arkansas, whom Allen seemed to irritate the most. In a running exchange of words one day, Caraway told Allen "that the grasshopper is not the only plague" to come out of Kansas.

The Arkansas senator also told Allen that the only conviction he had was "what the President wants." Whereupon Allen countered with the declaration that he would rather take "the thoughts of the President" than those of Caraway.

"The senator will have his choice," Caraway snapped. "He must take somebody's opinion. He did not bring one here with him."

"The reflection the senator casts on my thinking apparatus might be a reflection on his own," Allen hurled back.

"I was not casting any reflection on the senator's thinking apparatus," replied Caraway. "I never accused him of having one."

All of which seems to be a little rough treatment for a new senator.

But the senate's that way sometimes.

Then the War Menace Will Be Near.

PATTON FILES GAS PETITION

Document Is Supplementary to One Filed Protesting Service Here.

A petition in behalf of the city of Marion, protesting against an alleged inadequacy of gas in Marion and asking that the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. be obliged to furnish proper service here will be filed with the state utilities commission by City Solicitor Carrer Patton late this week or Monday he announced today.

The complaint will in reality be a supplementary petition to previous action brought before the commission recently in the name of Grant Haldeman as a representative gas consumer, claiming he was not receiving an adequate supply of gas.

It was suggested to City Solicitor Patton by members of the commission, at a hearing on the complaint brought by Haldeman, that the action be brought in the name of the city instead of a representative citizen.

If customary procedure is followed, the gas company will file an answer to the city's complaint within 30 days, and the case will go before the commission for argument.

Council several weeks ago ordered City Solicitor Patton to make complaint regarding gas service here, after attempts of the gas company to settle the rate fight locally had failed. Council decided the 60-cent rate proposed by the company was too high.

Valuations of gas company property, to be used in determining a rate for Marion, is now before Ohio courts where it was carried by the gas company on error from a decision of the commission.

SEWAGE PLANT MUST BE BUILT

Bucyrus Loses Protest Against Order of State Health Department.

Special To The Star

BUCYRUS, Dec. 5—Upholding the state department of health in its order for the construction of sewage disposal plant in Bucyrus, the board of referees comprised of E. A. Lawrence, representing the city, and A. Elliott Kimberly, representing the state department, in a 42-page report to City Solicitor Charles F. Schaber, today ordered that the city have in operation by Sept. 1, 1933, a sanitary sewage disposal system. They also ordered that an intercepting sewer be constructed and ready for use by Dec 31, 1932.

The dispute over the city's sewage disposal problem was placed in the hands of the two referees after the city had offered protests to the order issued by the state health department which came as the result of formal complaints made by 77 residents of Bucyrus township and 56 in Dallas township in a petition to the state department in April, 1928.

FRAUD CHARGED BY THEATER PARTNERS

Contractor Sued for $20,000 in Cross Petition at Bucyrus.

Special To The Star

BUCYRUS, Dec. 5—John Seifert and Arden W. Wisman, partners in the uncompleted Moose theater building, against whom suit was brought some time ago by John Hoover, Cincinnati contractor for $46,000 for compensation for work already completed in the erection of the building, today filed a cross petition asking judgment for $20,000 and fraud.

That Hoover estimated the total cost of the building to be $90,000 but after actual construction started furnished the material at excessive prices which would have brought the total cost of the building to over $161,000; that he caused to be formed a corporation called John Hoover, Inc., composed of members of his family, for the purpose of escaping personal liability; and that the contractor purchased the contract between Wisman, Seifert & Henry Henthorn, Cincinnati architect, for the purpose of escaping a check of the quantity, quality and type of material furnished and the amount of labor expended, are some of the charges made in the cross petition.

Fifteen letters were awarded this year.

ASKS REMOVAL OF INJUNCTION

Defendant in Suit Filed by Bank Receiver Gives Answer to Court.

Special To The Star

GALION, Dec. 5—Action was started in the Crawford county court of common pleas today by Mary Volk, former cashier of the Galion Citizens' National bank, asking that the temporary restraining order holding up her suit against the finance committee of the bank be removed.

Miss Volk's petition came after A. E. Evenson, receiver of the defunct bank had obtained the injunction against her action asking for a judgment of $206.700.

She maintained that the allegations in Evenson's petition were not true. She said that there was no cause for such action and that the receiver has no legal capacity to sue or maintain the action.

Hearing was set for Monday afternoon at Bucyrus.

Civil War Veteran Passes Away; Funeral Services Saturday.

Special To The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, Dec. 5—William H. Hall, 84, life long resident of this county, and one of the few surviving local Civil war veterans, died Thursday at the home of his son E. Elsworth Hall.

William H. Hall was born in Mifflin township, Wyandot county, Sept. 9, 1846. When 17 years of age he enlisted in the Co. F. 9th O. V. C. and served in the Civil war until 1865. General Hugh Judson Kilpatrick was his cavalry commander and his company served under General William T. Sherman in and from the siege and fall of Atlanta, Georgia, on the March to the Sea, and until General Johnson surrendered in North Carolina, April 6, 1865.

Sept. 8, 1867, he was united in marriage to Amelia Gibson. Six children survive. They are E. Elsworth Hall, of this city; David F. Hall of Carey; Mrs. Lyman Corfman of Tymochtee township; Mrs. Ernest Enders of Columbus, and August K. Hall, of this city. Besides the children, Mr. Hall leaves seven grandsons, eight granddaughters, eighteen great-grandchildren.

Mr. Hall was a member of the John Stewart Methodist church here and also a member of the Any Man's class in that Sunday school. He was also a member of the Masonic lodge.

Funeral services will be held at the John Stewart Methodist church Saturday at 2 p. m. with Rev. Norman Sweat officiating. Burial will be made in the Pleasant Ridge cemetery at the Mt. Zion church.

Your Eyes and Our Service

A Person May Boast—

That both his far and near vision are perfect. And apparently prove it. What really may mean little or nothing. How about the questions? Do you see comfortably as well as ever? Without straining your eyes? Without headaches? Without squinting or frowning? The correct answers to these questions are revealed by examination.
